The UUHHS Supports

* Publication of the Journal of Unitarian Universalist History with full text available on-line one year after initial release.

The Journal includes articles of original research, adapted text of significant lectures, and reviews of recent books on Unitarian, Universalist, and UU history.

* Annual hosting of the Conrad Wright Lecture, featuring published speakers in various locations around the country

* An exciting interactive website, featuring historical essays, UU biographies, and bibliographies for further research. See uuhhs.org

* The UUHHS electronic discussion at uuh-chat@uaa.org

* The Dictionary of Unitarian Universalist Biography: uaa.org/uuhhs/duub

* Networking with the Universalist Heritage Foundation, the UU Religious Education History Group, and other emerging history & heritage groups

Additional Important Projects of UUHHS

* The Unitarian Universalist History and Heritage Convocation, co-sponsored with UU Collegium, in Waltham, MA in 2010. Future UU History Convos are planned.

* Re-publication of critical texts in our history: Walking Together: Polity and Participation in Unitarian Universalism, by Conrad Wright; Freedom Moves West, by Charles Lyttle; Hunted Heretic, by Roland Bainton.

* Support of important projects, such as Long Strange Trip, a DVD film series by Ron Cordes; and Unitarian and Universalist Women: Liberating History, from ten yearly calendars by UUWHS.

* Sponsorship of workshops and lectures at General Assembly on topics such as "Creating Congregational Histories," and "Hosea Ballou's Treatise at 200"

* Hosting the UUHHS table at General Assembly with informational literature, books for purchase, & membership forms
